

State Educator
Urges Naming
Of Arbitrators

A prominent education official last night proposed setting up an objective arbitration committee to study potential Pleasant Valley secondary school sites providing the joint board does not reach agreement on its own.

Speaking before a meeting of the West End Lions Club at the Lake House, Snydersburg, Roy Cleaver, adviser to the Department of Consolidation and Transportation, Public Instruction in Harrisburg, said the decision of such a committee could be a good solution if all the boards would agree to "accept (the committee's) decision with nifty."

Last night's Lions Club meeting was a special one, devoted in large part to a discussion of the joint school board and its problems.

All members of all five township boards—Cheshutill, Eldred, Hamilton, Polk and Ross—had been invited to attend the meeting.

Neither Polk nor Eldred showed up at the meeting. The other three boards each had representatives there.

Mr. Cleaver was introduced by County Superintendent John C. Little.

The educational adviser began his talk with a discussion of the history of public schools in the State. The first public school system, he said, was started in 1834 in Pennsylvania.

Twenty years later, he continued, the State Assembly passed the "first joint board act" in May, 1854, when a bill was signed making it possible for two or more schools to form a "mutual agreement."

The first joint boards did not come into being, he continued, until 1908. In 1911 the General Assembly passed a "union district act" enabling two or more districts to form a union after a public vote on the issue.

Union and jointure differ markedly. Under a joint agreement, each district board retains its individual state. Under union all districts making up the group are wiped out. They are replaced by one overall district.

Such an agreement, said Cleaver, may change the political organization of districts. For this reason the Assembly considered a public vote advisable.

The next step toward consolidation of the school systems was taken in 1937 when the "merger act" was passed. Merger and union accomplish nearly the same thing, except that, under merger "parts of a school district" may join with others in forming an agreement.

In 1947, Cleaver pointed out, the legislature passed Act 361 which made it compulsory for all county boards to figure out a revised county plan of attendance and school districting.

Citing advantages of jointure, Mr. Cleaver told the group that "law provides that, if the school sets up an approved program under jointure, it will be paid (an additional sum) its reimbursement fraction times $500 each year for every teaching unit." (Units are figured on the basis of number of pupils in the school).

There would be around 40 teaching units in the Pleasant Valley school system, Cleaver estimated. That would mean from $13,000 to $14,000 "new money coming into the organization," he said.

The basic idea behind the State's program, he continued, "is to provide money for an improved educational program."

It was part and parcel, he said, of the 1873 constitution which states that the "General Assembly shall provide a thorough and efficient system of public schools."

Unless children in rural areas are receiving equal opportunity with those of urban areas, he declared, this constitutional requirement is not being fulfilled.

Cleaver then turned to the specific cases involved in the Pleasant Valley jointure.

"Some of your townships are sending tuition students to other high schools," he said. "They can be kicked out at anytime. And you have nothing to say about facilities, books or curriculum—and you have no home school to call your own."

"When smaller schools band together . . . you get security," he continued.

During the past few weeks, Mr. Cleaver said, he had heard statements that the Pleasant Valley "joint organization has been temporarily blocked by failure to agree on a site."

"Selection of a school site is not that important," he declared. "Is it worth it to let differences of opinion get in the way of the forward progress of your schools?"

Mr. Cleaver then cited "another jointure" in another part of the State "which got bitter about its failure to agree on a site; broke up." Six of the districts went ahead.

U. S. Urged To Weigh Use Of Force In Laos

Six U. S. Flying Boxcars Fly To Hanoi In Move To Bolster French, Laotians

Hanoi, Indochina, (AP)—Six U. S. Flying Boxcars—the first of possibly two or three dozen under stepped-up American aid—flew into Hanoi yesterday, loaded troops and war cargoes, and immediately took off to reinforce French and Laotian forces against Vietnamese invaders of Laos.

They roared away for Luang Prabang, 275 miles southwest of Hanoi, and the broad Plaine des Jarrés, giving a tremendous morale boost to French and Laotian defenders hopeful the Communist-led Vietnamese can be brought to battle at these fortified positions and defeated.

American crews flew the giant C-119s, here from Japan via the Philippines. They are capable of carrying 64 parachute troopers or a whopping cargo of weapons and ammunition.

French and Laotian patrols probed in a wide area around Luang Prabang, the residence town of Laotian King Sisavang Vong, without making any contact with Vietnamese forces believed encamped in surrounding hills and mountains.

This was the second day patrols had failed to encounter enemy opposition. There was speculation that Vietnamese leaders are pulling out some units and withdrawing northward.

The French disclosed yesterday that Gen. Hoang Minh Tao, trained in war by Communist Chinese, is directing the Vietnamese' southern division operations which have sent advance elements from the heart of Laos towards the Thailand border.

Dulles Starts Talks For U. N. Intervention

Washington (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) yesterday advised Secretary of State John Foster Dulles "not to foreclose the possibility of using our air and naval power" if it should prove necessary to stop Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

The Californian offered this advice as Dulles appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in support of the administration's proposed $5,800,000,000 foreign aid bill.

Dulles said the United States has started talks with several Allies on a possible appeal to the United Nations for action to deal with the Communist-led invasion of the Indochinese state of Laos.

He said flatly, however, that this country had no plans to send American troops to fight the Communists in Southeast Asia.

Much of the questioning was taken up with the invasion of Laos by Communist forces. Senator after senator expressed concern that loss of Southeast Asia to Communism would be a staggering blow to this country and its free world allies.

Knowland, long interested in Far Eastern affairs, pushed this view vigorously.

He told newsmen later he believes the U. S. and its Allies must draw a line some time and say to the Communists that to cross it means war.

"The American people, he said, 'realize we can't sit back and do nothing while one country after another falls to the Communists.'"

After the hearing, Dulles sought out the Californian and talked several minutes with him privately in a Capitol corridor.

Afterwards, the senator declined to discuss the conversation with reporters except to say he had "highly recommended" that the administration "tell the American people what it is doing to meet the threat in Southeast Asia."

Dulles had told the House Foreign Affairs Committee earlier and reiterated in the afternoon to the Senate group that the U. S. was discussing with the French and the Southeast Asia countries the possibility of taking the matter to the United Nations.

France and Thailand are being consulted along with invaded Laos and the other two associated Indochina states—Vietnam and Cambodia—Dulles told the House Foreign Affairs Committee. The development followed disclosure that the United States has virtually assured Thailand of emergency aid in arms and supplies to help meet the threat to that Southeast Asian neighbor of Laos.

The attack on Laos, Dulles testified, "does not even pretend to be a revolutionary effort but is straight military aggression" which "very vitally affects us."

500 Saved At Sea After Collision Of Two Ships

Harwich, England, (AP)—Fast-working crewmen on two American freighters rescued around 500 passengers and crewmen of a British ferry steamship whose bow was sliced off in a pre-dawn North Sea collision yesterday.

An Englishwoman, trapped below for hours, died after being pulled out, and there may have been three other deaths.

The shattered after part of the ferry was towed into port late last night with three passengers reported trapped in it and presumed dead.

Unofficial reports said there may be five dead in all but these reports could not be confirmed pending a search of the hulk.

Many of the rescued were Americans. They were traveling aboard the 4,190-ton steamer Duke of York, operated by the government-owned British Railways on a 105-ferry run between The Hook of Holland and Harwich.

The 7,607-ton U. S. government freighter Haiti Victory collided with the ferry in the misty dark. The freighter, much less seriously damaged than the ferry, stood by to give aid and was one of the two vessels which took the survivors aboard.

The Duke of York lost all her bow forward of the superstructure housing in the crash; the Haiti Victory, riding higher in the water, escaped with a slash in her bow.

Five survivors were injured. No Americans were known to be among the casualties.

All others aboard the ferry steamer, including dozens of American servicemen and their wives bound from Germany for leave in England, were picked up in the dramatic sea rescue.

Those listed aboard the steamer were 437 passengers and 72 crewmen.

The Duke of York's skipper and a skeleton crew of 15 remained aboard the steamer's floating remnant as it was being towed toward Harwich by two tugs.

The collision occurred about 4:45 a.m. in a morning mist about 40 miles off Harwich.

Survivors told of a desperate scramble for safety, devoid of panic. They said the only thing approaching confusion was a rush for the lifeboat stations and shouts of "What happened?"

Communists Agree To Keep POWs In Korea

Panmunjom, Thursday (AP)—The Communists unexpectedly submitted today an important eight-point compromise proposal to settle the prisoner of war deadlock and reach an armistice in Korea.

In a major concession, the Reds agreed to the Allied plan to keep in Korea until their fate is decided the 48,500 North Korean and Chinese prisoners unwilling to return to their Communist homelands.

A vital provision of the new Red plan calls for creation of a five-member neutral nation repatriation commission made up of representatives of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Switzerland and India.

The U. N. Command immediately asked for and got a recess in the talks until Saturday. It wanted time to study the sudden new proposal and refer it back to the high-level policy makers of the governments involved.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr., chief Allied negotiator, said after the 26-minute meeting: "This is an important proposal and any comment made on it now would be premature."

Harrison said he had not had time to analyze the proposal.

Harrison said he had no idea of what anyone might think of the new Communist proposal.

"The matter is so important," he said, "that any major decision must be made by the governments themselves."

"It merits careful thought," Harrison said the Allies were seeking a fair armistice based on the principle that no prisoner shall be forced to go home by physical or mental coercion.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, in handing over the written document containing the new proposal, said: "I now declare that we will continue to reserve the proposal put forward by our side on April 26."

"But on condition that your side accept the following new proposal which our side puts forward now, we are prepared to try to adopt the prerequisite of your side that the remaining POWs not directly repatriated be kept in their original places of detention and be handed over to a neutral nation which shall arrange for their repatriation."

"I must point out that the proposal put forward by our side on April 26 is more reasonable as compared to the new one which is based upon the prerequisite on your side."

In other words, Nam said the Reds will stand on their new proposal only if the Allies agree to all parts of it. Otherwise the Reds will return to their demand that balking prisoners be transported to the neutral country and eventually repatriated.

"The Communists admitted that the POWs shall not be physically removed from Korea," Harrison said when he emerged from the conference hall.

The Red proposal called for the return to their homelands within two months after an armistice of all prisoners who want to go home.

Congress Strives To Learn Exact Amount Of Foreign Aid Sought By Administration

Washington, (AP)—Congress members asked to authorize new billions in foreign aid funds tried without success yesterday to find out how much the administration actually plans to spend in the next year.

Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the figure would be well under the $7,400,000,000 former President Truman had suggested. But he said he could not give a firm figure now.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey testified Tuesday the figure would be above the $5,828,000,000 of new authorizations which President Eisenhower asked for the new year.

The extra money would come out of funds appropriated in previous years.

Stassen explained yesterday that on March 31 nearly 12 billion dollars of previously appropriated foreign aid funds were unused, and more than four billion unobligated. But he carefully explained that the four billion actually is earmarked to meet military requirements even though contracts have not been completed.

He said the amount of actual spending "will depend on how much we can expedite delivery on some contract items, how much we can slow down on others and whether we will need new equipment for Korea."

But some congressmen indicated they might try to hold the spending much lower than either Stassen or Humphrey indicated. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) reportedly is trying to keep the figure for next year below this year's level—an amount estimated by Sen. Byrd (D-Va) at $5,700,000,000.

Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Senate Appropriations Committee said he thinks the Senate generally "has a figure of five billion" in mind.

Scrapping Of Atomic Ship Plans Denied

Washington, (AP)—Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-NY) said yesterday that projects to develop atomic-powered aircraft and airplane carriers may be cut down but definitely will not be scrapped.

Cole, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said these programs have been under review for some time as part of "the overall re-evaluation of our defense establishment and defense program."

He said a final decision had not been reached.

Another source who asked not to be named said no final decision would be reached until the administration asks for appropriations to continue the work.

Watchman Admits $15,000 Theft

Harrisburg, (AP)—John N. Heck Jr., 60, a bank night watchman, pleaded guilty to 13 counts of larceny at a preliminary hearing yesterday in the theft of $15,000 from a city bank.

Heck was returned to Dauphin County Jail for the next term of the County Criminal Court on default of $15,000 bail.

Heck, employed by the Capital Bank and Trust Co. about five weeks, was arrested in Maryland Saturday five hours after he was reported missing from his post. Bank officials said $15,466 in cash was missing from envelopes of night depositors.

Heck told authorities he was resigned to living the rest of his life in jail. He was on the way to Florida when caught in a Harrisburg taxicab.

Driver Escapes Injury In Crash

Indianapolis, (AP)—Neal Carter, 29-year-old auto racer from Royal Oak, Mich., escaped injury yesterday in a 600-foot practice spin at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Carter's Auto Shippers Special, owned by Eugene A. Casaroli of Grange Pointe Farms, Mich., spun around three times coming out of the southwest turn but stopped on the infield grass.

Explains Action

Washington, (AP)—T. Lamar Caudle testified yesterday he recommended dismissal of an $185,000 mail fraud case against Roy E. Crummer and Associates, Topeka, Kans., bond dealers, because he didn't think there was enough evidence to get a conviction.

Navy Bombers Strike Close To Siberia

Seoul, Thursday, (AP)—Bristling Navy dive bombers, flying about 100 miles from Siberia, hurled a mighty blow at an important Communist mining center near North Korea's East Coast yesterday and left flaming destruction in their wake.

The Navy said the fighters demolished the main transformer station at the Komdok silver and lead processing plant, northeast of the Red port of Songjin. The target is about 100 miles from the Siberian border.

Many buildings were knocked out. Skyriders and Corsairs from the fast carriers Princeton and Valley Forge rained down barages of flak and dumped their explosives.

Americans To Be Freed Next Monday

Washington, (AP)—Russia has advised the United States that seven American civilians released from detention in Korea will arrive in Moscow, Monday.

The State Department, announcing this late yesterday, said it was trying to arrange for an American plane to fly them to the United States.

The seven Americans were seized at the outbreak of hostilities in Korea nearly three years ago. They include five Methodist missionaries and a Catholic Maryknoll priest.

The United States appealed to Russia several weeks ago to use its influence with North Korean authorities to obtain the release of the Americans. The embassy asked for Russian aid in freeing 13 Americans.

In reply, the North Koreans said they would free seven but that three others had died and the remaining three never had been heard from.

Remount Section Buying 150 Dogs

Washington, (AP)—The purchasing job for the once mighty remount sections of the armed services has simmered down to one man—and he's pretty well reduced to buying dogs.

All the animals used by the mechanized armed services are bought by Maj. Lee O. Hill of the Quartermaster Corps.

Hill buys an occasional horse. They're still used, for instance, in ceremonial burials at Arlington National Cemetery. He buys a few mules, used in pack trains. And he buys quite a few dogs, used as scouts or sentries.

Right now, it's dogs. The Quartermaster Corps has announced it will buy 150 dogs by June 1.

Missing Car Found

Harrisburg, (AP)—Harrisburg city police last night reported discovery of a new car registered in the name of Don Lofgran, professional basketball player who has been missing from his suburban Philadelphia home since early last Thursday.

Revision Foreseen

Washington, (AP)—Secretary of the Interior McKay predicted yesterday that a proposed foreign trade study commission would recommend major revision in our tariff legislation.

Southern Chilean Earthquake Kills At Least 19 Persons

Santiago, Chile, (AP)—A severe earthquake rocked most of Chile yesterday, and unofficial reports said at least 19 persons were killed in the southern part of the country. The reported casualties were tabulated by newspapers.

The quake struck at 1:23 p. m. (1:23 p. m. EDT). The known dead were listed last night as five in Chillan, two in Concepcion, three at Parral, two at Linares, two at Cauquenes, and five at Anglo.

These same towns were devastated in a quake in 1939, when about 50,000 lives were lost.

First news of the deaths at Chillan, epicenter of the 1939 quake, was published in the newspaper La Discusion.

Chillan also was the center of yesterday's quake. La Discusion said the city shook the shock well. Earthquake-resistant buildings were emphasized in the city's reconstruction after the 1939 disaster.

He invited attorneys general of other interested states to join him in a suit if President Eisenhower signs into law the "tidelands" bill passed by the Senate Tuesday after a month of bitter debate.

The House passed a somewhat different bill five weeks ago, but Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said yesterday the House probably would accept the Senate version. This would avoid another long Senate debate on a compromise and get the legislation on the President's desk within a few days.

The bill would establish state rights to territory lying under water off their coasts for distances ranging from three to 10 1/2 miles. Some geologists have estimated this coastal belt holds oil deposits worth 50 to 300 billion dollars.

McCarthy Offers Acheson Chance To Explain Books

Washington, (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) yesterday offered his old enemy, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, a chance to explain why 30,000 to 40,000 books by authors alleged to be Communist or pro-Communist were bought for U. S. information libraries overseas.

McCarthy also directed a former FBI undercover worker in the Communist ranks to give his Senate investigations subcommittee a list of all Communists he knew to be employed in any news medium—press, radio, movies or television—between 1947 and 1951.

This order went to Harvey Matzow, who appeared before the committee yesterday at a televised hearing. McCarthy told newsmen he has asked ex-Communist Louis Budenz, a frequent witness before congressional investigators, to prepare a similar list. The Wisconsin senator didn't say what he proposes to do with the lists.

Warns Of Danger

Philadelphia, (AP)—A warning against the "climate of widespread suspicion, even hysteria" that has developed in the fight against Communist infiltration was voiced yesterday by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College.

Keep Reds On Spot, Warns Van Fleet

New York, (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet (Ret.) says the Communists have lost the war in Korea and warns that negotiations should not merely free them for aggression elsewhere in Asia.

"In terms of high strategy, the Reds have lost the war in Korea and they know it," Van Fleet wrote in a magazine article.

The general, who commanded the Eighth Army in Korea for 22 months before his retirement in March, said, "We do not have to ask the Chinese Reds for any favors."

"One can only speculate about how the high Chinese Reds like Mao Tse-tung and his staff must feel about the folly in which the Kremlin has provoked them," he wrote.

"One can only wonder how the Kremlin hopes to save any kind of face in his disaster, unless we Americans are foolish enough to let the Russians off the spot."

Three Linemen Electrocuted

Youngstown, O. (AP)—Three Ohio Edison Co. linemen, rigging a new circuit along a rural road, were electrocuted yesterday when a wire they were pulling over cross arms on a utility pole hit a 4,800-volt line.

Power, surging down the new wire, killed the three outright and burned their two companions. So hot was the electricity that it left a black charred streak across the road.

A. J. Lingeman, Ohio Edison personnel manager, said the wire either swung or blew across the high tension line.

Dead were D. J. Vogelsang, 41, Albert Taylor, 27, and William J. Smith, 26.

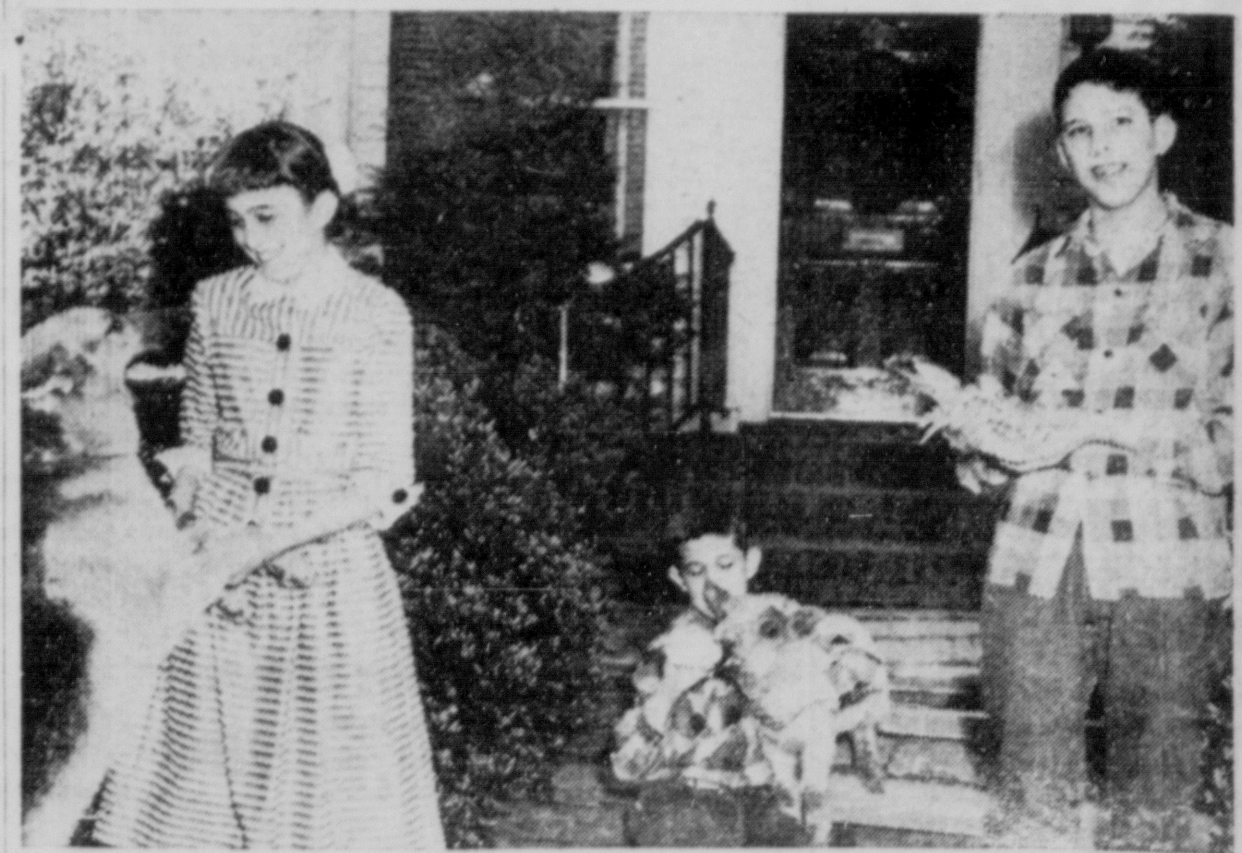

President Speaks Tonight In N. Y.

New York, (AP)—President Eisenhower makes a high-paced three-hour speaking visit to New York today—his first return here since he moved into the White House.

One thousand city policemen yesterday were assigned to guard his route upon his arrival.

The President will speak before two big $100 a plate Republican dinners—first at the Astor Hotel at 8:25 p.m. and about an hour later at the Waldorf-Astoria.

He plans to fly into La Guardia Field from Washington, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will welcome the presidential party.

County Sends Check For 35 Vote Machines

A check for $30,729.92 was drawn by the county yesterday to pay for 35 voting machines.

The check went to the Automatic Voting Machine Co.

The county now owns 48 voting machines "free and clear."

In the primary elections on May 19, there will be 45 of them in use. Two were purchased as reserves against expected substantial population increases and because of the fact that Price and Tunkhannock Townships are still old-fashioned paper-ballot districts. The additional machine serves as a spare, and will be used eventually when population increases warrant it.

Returns are expected to be greatly speeded up over past years, because machine results are tabulated and counted automatically and need only be copied off by district election officials.

In order to make clear to voters how the machines are used, demonstrations have been staged in different parts of the county throughout this week.

In many demonstrations women have served as volunteer instructors.

They reported yesterday the response has not been large.

There will be a demonstration of how to use the voting machine at Mount Pocono schoolhouse today from 10 a. m. to noon; 1 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

On Saturday there will be demonstrations at every polling place in the county where voting machines will be used.

Firemen Find Meat Dishes Done Up Black

A well baked ham greeted firemen on their arrival at a Stroudsburg apartment shortly after noon yesterday—but they weren't there to feast.

The piece-de-resistance got the heave-ho, pot and all, after firemen learned it didn't appeal to their appetites for medium rare. Mr. and Mrs. John J. Cammarata purchased the ham and were preparing it in their kitchen, rear of 1015 Dreher Ave.

Damage to the apartment, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Truman T. Burnett, was slight. But the ham was a total loss. It was the second time this week meat was smoked instead of baked.

Firemen also took a trip to an apartment in the Town Tavern building in Stroudsburg last Sunday to put out a chicken dinner with an extinguisher. The chicken had been left in the oven while the family went to church.

Borough Tells State It Can't Pledge Aid To Bridge Project

All Funds Budgeted, Says Council

Stroudsburg Council last night advised representatives of district engineers, State Highway Department that the borough cannot expend some $25,000 at this time in behalf of construction of a new bridge at Fifth St. and reconstruction of Broad St. by the State Highway Department.

Ed Iobst, engineer representing R. E. Boyer, district engineer, was advised the borough had budgeted every available cent down to a balance of some $19.

He was further advised that two appeals had been made to Monroe County commissioners for county aid for this project, but that no official, or formal reply had been received. Most recent request was filed by Attorney George T. Robinson, borough solicitor and Engineer Edward C. Hess a few weeks ago.

This appeal was filed on the basis of the fact that the Fifth St. bridge was taken off the hands of the County of Monroe by the State at the same time the State took over Broad St., Iobst was advised.

Iobst was accompanied by Ted Henderson, another engineer out of the district highway office. The engineers said the State is ready to go ahead and build the bridge and street, provided council contributes the funds requested and adopts an ordinance fixing grades and one-side parking on Broad St.

Council reiterated they were in perfect agreement with the whole project except that they had no funds. They said they would ask commissioners for a formal reply to latest request for county aid and advise the State Highway Department.

Iobst pointed out that the State might go along on spreading the payment over two years. He was advised the money is still not available.

Decision was made to advertise for a new street sweeper to replace the one which burned several months ago. That sweeper will be offered as a trade.

Council's inability to get a favorable settlement from the insurance company which covered the sweeper, was discussed at length. Some action in this matter will be taken when bids are received on May 21.

Three policemen who will take over collection of parking meter funds when new meters are installed were bonded.

Council approved a plan offered by Ted Henning, Metropolitan Edison Company manager, for removal of a pole from the corner of Sixth St. and Quaker Alley.

Girls Place In Typing Contest

Tannersville—Two Pocono High School girls attended a "typing contest" held last Saturday at Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Representing the county school were Ann Frailey and Jane Beck. The girls were listed as "in the upper one-third of the winners" by the contest judges.

Their instructor at the local school is Margaret Dare.

Besides entering the contest the girls visited a fashion show held at the college and a demonstration of modern office equipment.

Three Ingraham Children Devote Full-Time To Care Of Lamb, Dog, 50 Carrier Pigeons

Three East Stroudsburg youngsters don't need the reminder this is "Be Kind to Animals Week."

Stephen, Joan and Tom Ingraham, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Ingraham, of Anabonik St., each have pets, and devote full-time to their care.

The youngest, Stephen, has a two-month-old lamb he calls Ivanhoe, one of twins too delicate for the ewe owned by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schiebel, of 158 Smith St., to raise. And so the third grade pupil in the Laboratory School decided he was qualified to bring up Ivanhoe, and is faithful in his daily chores, which include feeding Ivanhoe milk from a bottle.

Ivanhoe is the favorite pet of Joan's German Shepherd dog "Peachantax." And "Pokey," a three-year-old, gets the entire care of young Joan who says "I still let Pokey sleep in my bed at night, although my parents think I should break her of the habit." Joan is 12 and a sixth grade student.

Eldest of the Ingraham children, Tom, 16, started three years ago to raise carrier pigeons

Woman Driver Faces Charges After Crash

State police yesterday said they plan to file charges of reckless driving and leaving an accident scene against Mrs. Louise E. Johnson, Mount Pocono, R.D.

Troopers of the Mount Pocono substation said her car was involved in a collision with the parked car of Henry B. Shoemaker, Stroudsburg sign painter, about 3 p.m.

Shoemaker was painting a sign near Scotrun, troopers said, when the northbound car veered off the highway, struck the Shoemaker car a glancing blow, "careened" back across the highway.

Police said the vehicle went on, then stopped about 500 yards up the highway. Shoemaker started for his car, and the other vehicle went in gear and moved on, troopers said.

The Johnson car was found later at a hotel near Swiftwater by troopers Mekuta and Robert Latzo. Mrs. Johnson denied having been involved in a collision.

Damages to her car were estimated at $400, and to Shoemaker's car, $100.

Kiwanis Club Gives $1,000 To Hospital Lighting Fund

Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club presented $1,000 toward the expense of the new emergency lighting system being installed at Monroe County General Hospital at the meeting yesterday afternoon at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

President Parke W. Kunkle, made the presentation to Frank S. LaBar, president of the board of directors of the hospital. The donation represented part of charity fund of the club pledged to the hospital.

Mr. LaBar on behalf of the hospital board expressed the appreciation for the gift. The emergency lighting system, he declared, is an absolute necessity for the hospital. It is being installed at an expense estimated at $10,000.

The great need of a nursing home where aged indigent patients could be cared for was emphasized by Mr. LaBar. At present they must be cared for at the hospital, he said, representing heavy expense to the institution.

The operation of the Welcome Wagon in the community was related to the club by Mrs. Kathryn Miller, of East Stroudsburg, one of the operators. Max D. Stadfeld was program chairman.

Mrs. Miller told of the movement having been started in Memphis, Tenn., and had grown so that much of the country is serviced. Local business interests of the community are the sponsors, she said.

Mrs. Miller gave the objectives, making possible people getting better acquainted with one another, welcoming newcomers, and becoming ambassadors of good will.

Mrs. Mary Blair, other Welcome Wagon representative in the community, said the workers were well received in the homes and expressed appreciation of being permitted to tell the club about the project.

President Kunkle reported the Stroudsburg Club had led the 12th Division in club activities for March.

Welcomed were John Willhoite, a Key Clubber; also Joseph McCuskey, of Stroudsburg, and Roy Johnson.

Judge Authorizes Use Of County Funds To Buy Photo-Duplicator For Recorder's Office

Purchase of photo-duplicating machinery for the recorder's office was authorized yesterday by Judge Fred W. Davis.

An order handed down from his office approves both use of the machinery and use of county funds to buy it.

Said the order: "The method of photographing deeds, mortgages, wills and other instruments is hereby approved as proper and lawful."

The commissioners are "authorized to purchase, with county funds, an Eastman Micro-file camera, a Bates numbering machine, and a duplicate roll of all micro-filmed records."

One roll of film is to be kept at the Hall-McChesney plant at Syracuse, N. Y., where the films are processed, the order said. The duplicate roll may be kept either in the building housing the county jail or at the county home building, it continued.

The decision followed a public hearing in court last month, at which a Hall-McChesney representative explained the entire processing method and the materials used throughout.

At that time County solicitor James Kitson testified the method and machine had the endorsement of the county bar association; Commissioner Amzi F. Altomose testified the board of commissioners was ready to purchase the machine, subject to court approval; and Recorder Floyd Butz testified to the advantages of using the machine in his office.

The system works like this: A deed is brought in to the Recorder's office to be recorded.

The original is laid on a table beneath a special camera loaded with a long roll of film. It is photographed on each side. After enough pictures have been taken to use up the roll, the roll is sent to the Hall-McChesney Co. for developing.

It is developed and a paper print is made of each picture which is almost the same size as the original deed. All of the paper prints are gathered together and bound in one volume.

This is the volume of recorded deeds which the public may use and handle.

If duplicates are wanted, or a page tears or is mutilated, another print may be ordered. The replacement, of course, is identical with the original.

The big saving, as Butz has pointed out for more than a year, will be on labor costs in the recorder's office. Formerly, each instrument had to be copied on a typewriter by hand.

If an additional copy was wanted, it had to be typed up. The labor costs involved made it necessary for the recorder to hire several additional girls, and the books invariably were several months behind.

Under the present system, the county is expected to make a profit and Butz will also get an additional profit. The increment will come through reduced labor costs.

If the county owns the machine, it is expected that a survey will be made to see if the machine might not help to cut costs in other courthouse or county offices where there is considerable hand work.

Services Held At County Home

Kellersville—Religious services at the Monroe County Home were conducted recently by local Methodist preacher William S. Lesh. He led in prayer and delivered the message.

Miles Kirkhuff was in charge of the musical portion of the program, assisted by Mrs. Mary Voilage and the choir from the Neola church. Mrs. Raymond Howell and Mrs. Arthur Snyder offered a selection. Miss Voilage presided at the organ.

chine, it is expected that a survey will be made to see if the machine might not help to cut costs in other courthouse or county offices where there is considerable hand work.

Saving for a Home

Figures released this past weekend in Washington by the National Association of Home Builders raise the question: Are too many persons being required to spend to the hilt in today's economy?

The NAHB reported on a survey of 1,500 home-builders in 46 states and the District of Columbia which showed that 1,440 of them had difficulties in finding home-buyers with enough cash savings to make necessary down payments on new homes.

Federal Housing Agency requirements for FHA-insured mortgages range from five per cent, on homes costing less than $8,000 ($100 or less) to twenty per cent, on houses costing from $21,000 to $24,000 ($2,400 to $4,000).

NAHB added that more than 60 per cent, of the prospective buyers during the past six months, who were unable to meet the down payment requirements, said they could afford to meet the monthly payments required.

Noting the average exceptions to all rules of analysis (that there are houses offered for sale on plans other than that now discussed), a basic matter for consideration appears to be whether the day-to-day costs of living are so high that after a head of household has met them, there is little else for saving toward a down payment on a new home.

If such is the case, our general sense of overall prosperity has been largely a sham in so far as a great many potential home-buyers are concerned.

The problem confronting the builders and the people who want to buy homes is a pressing one for which we hope that the federal agencies, the builders and the private financiers may soon find proper solution.

Project Cost Revised

A recent project report resulting from an Air Force study which estimated the cost of survival from atomic attack at between $16 and $20 billions has been termed absurdly high by a committee of industrialists and scientists.

If we are ever to hope for a balanced budget, which the Eisenhower Administration is currently striving to achieve, the revised thinking on the cost of this project, and in other matters of government expenditures, is essential. We have complete faith in President Eisenhower's ability to achieve savings without placing the nation in peril.

The Air Force estimate of fantastic cost of protecting our cities from atomic destruction was based on a broad protective screen of radar stations. The study committee of industry and science reports to the Defense Department that an effective "electronic umbrella" can cover 4,000 miles or more across the top of the world at a fraction of the original cost estimate.

The committee, headed by M. J. Kelly, president of Bell Telephone Laboratories, proposes use of newly-designed radar equipment employing radio warning system, with a small force of observers to man it rather than the shifts of operators needed to watch screens under the now outmoded system. The committee recommends that the oceans be strewn with floating pylons which automatically would set off a chain reaction of warnings to ground stations in the United States and Canada hours before an enemy plane could reach our shores.

The original report, which appeared under the title "Project Lincoln," was frightening beyond belief in that it held out little hope for our survival in event of an enemy attack unless we poured billions into the defense warning network. We said then that if it was a matter of survival any price would be cheap. But it is reassuring to know that there are newer and better warning systems available at a much cheaper price.

There should be no delay in rushing the warning fence and floating signal system into being.

The Once Over —by H. I. Phillips

Let's Have A Probe! With the Pressures the next big race on which to go wrong, this department is for a Congressional investigation into the recent Kentucky Derby. What's one more investigation these days? We charge that Dark Star is really Citation, that Jockey Guerin whispered to Native Dancer, "Let's at this one out," in the early stages of the classic, that Money Broker, who lunched the favorite, is a Russian saboteur, and that, but for some hidden conspiracy the right rider for Native Dancer (Arthur Murray) might have been up. We further think Owen Lattimore and John Carter Vincent should be questioned as to what they knew about the whole thing.

And last, but not least, we are for an inquiry into whether or not there is a secret society made up of racing experts pledged to go overboard on a single horse in every Kentucky Derby and pay no attention whatever to a skinner that has just shown eminent fitness by winning the Derby Trial by three or four lengths and will pay $5 for $2. We also contend that there is no such place as Churchill Downs and that it is all a De Mille movie sponsored by the mint-leaf growers.

"Men of Distinction" a recent fast closing show on Broadway was so odoriferous it could have been called "Camenbert Real." The first thing to have done in that New York brewery strike was to call in the National Fermentation Board under the Taft-Hopkins Law. President Eisenhower plans a summer vacation in Colorado. . . . The ball carries farther in light air. . . . And if he fails to drive the Colorado River the first time he can play a second ball without penalty. . . . THE TAXIDERMIST

Robert S. Allen Reports

Few Red Infected PW's Have Toured Iron Curtain Nations

Washington—Army authorities are now certain of one thing regarding prisoners of war who have succumbed to Communist indoctrination. This tragic human problem is much bigger than had been anticipated.

Many more PW are involved than the ailing ex-captives who have returned to the U. S. and are undergoing treatment in military hospitals. The Army has collected a large mass of detailed information that definitely establishes the sad fact that a number of American servicemen still in enemy hands have succumbed to Red propaganda.

The unhappy evidence concerning these victims comes from various authoritative sources. They include returned prisoners who were not infected, recorded broadcasts from Communist stations in North Korea and China, intelligence reports from satellite countries, and letters written by PW themselves.

Much of this information is still secret. But the following can be published: Some of the infected PW have gone so far as to tour four Red countries in Europe to disseminate Communist propaganda, particularly the lie that the U. S. has waged "atomic warfare."

Numerous "interviews" by indoctrinated PW have appeared in Red publications throughout the world, and especially in Asiatic countries.

The Communists, through undercover agents and other means, intend to try to retain their hold on these victims and to exploit them when they return home.

Tragic Details—Army authorities now consider this PW problem so serious that special measures may be employed to deal with it.

Under consideration would set up a body of prominent civilian specialists who would examine each case individually and prescribe necessary treatment—or whatever else is deemed necessary.

In some instances, it is highly likely that disciplinary action may be required. The scope and nature of this difficult problem is graphically presented in a comprehensive Army report to the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Publishable highlights of this revealing study are as follows:

"Since December, 1951, when the Communists agreed to exchange mail, more than 33,000 letters have been received in this country from Americans held captive in North Korea. Many of these letters contained Communist propaganda."

Gertrude Lawrence, one of the great stars of our time, had plenty of what is called "time" in New York near the end of the New York run of "Lady in the Dark," she suddenly worked herself up into a hysterical tantrum and vowed that she was finished with the stage forever. After Moss Hart watched her with a calculating eye and, when she had quieted down, told her, "Gertrude, that was a wonderful scene and will make the perfect second act for my new play. I'm going to quote your every word and remember your every gesture. It will bring the house down." Miss Lawrence, forgetting her vow to quit show business, threw her arms around Hart's neck and cried, "If you don't promise me that part this instant, I'll never speak to you again!"

George Sokolsky Says...

Reds Successful In Creating Idea They Favor Peace, While We Favor Conditions

My old friend, Karl von Wiegand, is a reporter of the old school, which means that he regards an event of the moment as a continuing development in the history of man.

I therefore noted keenly Von Wiegand's reference to the contest for credibility between Eisenhower and Russia (whoever governs there): "The Kremlin in the Pravda article used typical Asiatic tactics which all Asians understand—that of turning Eisenhower's bold spearpoint against himself and, directly and by implication, falsely charging that America, not Russia, is a threat to world peace."

The Russians have conducted a peace campaign since 1940. They organized the Stockholm Peace Petition; they have used their vast propaganda organizations in every country in the world to advocate peace. True, during this peace campaign, they have made war in China, in Iran, in Germany, in Korea, in Indo-China. But they have employed natives and not Russians; they have given the impression of a people's movement rather than an imperialist adventure.

The point needs to be made that the Russians have succeeded in creating the impression that they favor peace, and that the United States is actually creating conditions favorable to war. No American effort to counteract this Russian propaganda has been successful.

President Eisenhower, in his speech on foreign policy, laid down the American maximum peace terms. The Russians replied in two ways: by a lengthy article in "Pravda," on April 25, and by an expansion of the Far Eastern War into Laos in Indo-China.

The Russians, as Marxists, employ the identical words that we do, but the meaning is different. For instance, by peace, President Eisenhower and every American means an end to war, a restoration of the normal commercial and diplomatic relations among nations, disarmament on an accepted program and a recognition of the rights of people to governments of their own choosing.

By peace, the Russians mean a changed world of no boundaries, no nations, no races, no separation of human beings by religious or philosophic concepts. All human beings would be one people in one world governed out of the Kremlin until government would wither away altogether. There will be no coercion, no force, no use of power—that is eventually. Meanwhile, men must fight and die, particularly those who are not Russians, to achieve this end.

And the only country that is preventing this heaven on earth from immediate accomplishment is the United States!

Here then is the conflict and, just as Von Wiegand wrote, in Asia, the Russian rather than the American view makes sense because of long repetition and the genuine dislike of the Asiatic and the Americans who are regarded as exploiters.

American and British propaganda has up to now been not only futile but fatuous. If Chester Bowles suggested that the Voice of America tone down its anti-Communism, it would be that its efforts irritated rather than informed. The Russians devoted themselves to one line of propaganda, peace, and peace as defined above. We have become involved in a defense of errors. To the Asiatics, and to many Europeans, we have lost face because we lost China and permitted ourselves to be tricked in Korea.

The "Pravda" article raised this question: "Those wishing to see in Eisenhower's speech a real striving for peace cannot but ask why it was necessary for the President in a speech calling for peace to threaten unequivocally with the possibility of an atom war. Is it possible that such kind of arguments will make the speech of the President about peace more convincing? In any case, as regards the Soviet Union, such arguments, or speaking more plainly, such threats, have never attained and cannot attain their purpose."

This has a clear meaning to those who live in fear of the atom bomb and who also fear that whatever happens, the war is more likely to be fought on their soil than on either American or Russian terrain. The Indians have that in mind all the time and therefore they favor peace at any price, which is cheaper than having a major war fought in their country.

So far, the Russian has been very effective in their propaganda. If this country is to make up for lost time, it needs a different approach to a psychological offensive. Certainly, a nation always on the defensive does not present an appearance of courage or even wisdom.

Hawaii became a territory of the United States on June 14, 1900.

There is a new book out, called "The Second Sex." It's by Simone de Beauvoir, a French woman, and deals with, of all things, WOMAN.

It is, of course "a well known fact," as Mr. Vishinsky always says in the United Nations when he gets ready to tell an outright lie, that a man, like myself, knows all about women.

As a matter of fact, about fifteen years ago, I wrote a book entitled "What I know about Women." The book contained 300 blank pages.

What man really does KNOW about women? I have been married 31 years, and there is hardly a day in the week that my wife does not spring a new surprise on me.

One of the main reasons, I believe, that men know so little about women is that women know so little about themselves. And this Simone de Beauvoir certainly knows very little about the subject of her book.

One of the things which she advises women to do in order to compete with men is to drop their femininity and leave sex out of the business entirely.

She complains that women are still dominated by men and that they really haven't a chance to compete with the males. I wonder whether she has ever heard of Clare Boothe Luce, of the four-trial rigged like a head-master schooner.

The jury, however, defied him and set old John free. They were, indeed, 12 good men and true.

Ever since then American journalism has been as free as the breeze that blows down Bunker Hill and across the broad acres of the world's greatest land of liberty. Honor John Peter Zenger? How come it took us so long.

They dedicated a memorial to old John Peter Zenger in New York City the other day and the reason is right in front of you—an honest newspaper which gives you all the news without fear of government crackdown.

Old Man Zenger it was who gave the U. A. a free press 46 years before there even was a United States!

In J. P.'s day New York was run rottenly by Gov. William Cosby, one of John Bull's bully boys, a dictator in white wig and silk knee britches.

Zenger went after Bill the Boss editorially in his New York Weekly Journal. His quill pen had a fiery point on it that harpooned through the gubernatorial Goliath's hide where it hurt the most.

The gov tossed Zenger into the clink and demanded a jury find him guilty of libel. Cosby thought

"I haven't the SLIGHTEST idea, madam. I'm new here."

Hollywood Heartbeat
Celebs About Town: At Mrs. Danny Kaye's homecoming party

for her beloved husband after his glorious Palace run: Lauren Bacall doing a jig with James Stewart; Marlene Dietrich, a famous member of the Runyon Committee, whose one flight to a convention of the Santa Claus Fraternity Order of Eagles (one Humid, Rainy Day) enriched, cancer-fighters by nearly $500,000; Grace Allen, Clifton Webb and Mrs. James Stewart intensely interested in the lowdown on Christine Jorgensen, now in Movietown. . . . Louella Parsons (thinner by a dozen lbs.) confessing that hit songwriter James McHugh is her great happiness. . . . "But Joe Schenck," she sighed, "says I shouldn't marry again." . . . The 100 others at the festa were former Broadway-waiters, who occupied the front pews at the elite premieres in the Ziegfeld-Dillingham era.

Sallies in Our Alley: Ruffy Morgan (who inspired Ruffy's "The Lemon Drop Kid" character) asked a Hollywood cheap-skate to buy some of the cravats Swifty peddles. . . . "Why? I do with your silly ties?" said the rude punk. . . . "Hang yourself!" Swifty'd Swifty. . . . At the Flamingo Hotel (Vegas) a wag, clowning: "I was once New Orleans' greatest lover!" . . . "I once was a great lover, too," sighed a gambler, "but when I ran out of $100 bills I ran out of girls."

Beverly Hills Vignette: This reporter (last Sunday night) alerted the Beverly Hills police chief (named in the Jeltke vice case) in his rich community "up to no good." . . . Chief Anderson collared the Broadway "producer" (whose profiles are in the Rogues' Gallery in N. Y. C.) and told him to get out of town in 5 minutes. . . . His companion (featuring a walrus mustache) got hysterical. . . . "I'm a respectable banker on Long Island," he choked. "This will ruin me if publicized!" . . . "It's against the law," the Chief reminded the sucker, "to consort with criminals. This man has a long record." . . . We make it public to save the chump (an obvious set-up) from the banking. . . . We are omitting the clerk executive's name this time. His last initial is B. . . . He lives at 710 Park. . . . Fine thing. Bank executives palsy with bookie-burglars.

Memos of a Midnighter: The column we promised for this morning (on Hollywood Scoundrels and their shenanigans with other men's wives and women will appear tomorrow. . . . Author Howard Webster, editor of the N. Y. Campus (at the Union Sq. demonstration), as a "Judas" who "let his associates down." Fast hysterically shouted: "He is yellow!" (Some sneep?) . . . The Runyon Canon Fund's 143rd request is from the will of Regina Klein, 2'klyn, $2,000. . . . Postmaster Arthur Summerfield says he is sorry to disappoint those spreading untruths that he plans resigning in July or anytime. . . . Cole Porter's French "Can-Can" show is now in shape (report our Philly agents) and is "all set for a long run" of sexy fun when it opens in America. . . . Bobby Ramos' crew at Ciro's (H'wood) and Roy Sierra's are top-flight rumbumba crews. . . . Don't miss Ward Morehouse's delightful book of nostalgia, "Just the Other Day" (about Broadway showboats).

The Big-Time: Michael Stern's book: "No Innocents Abroad," which debunks a recent puff for Luciano in a mug. . . . Ramon Revich's authentic Mexican floor show at his Macayo, a gay spot near Santa Monica. . . . The neat marriage of Vaughan Monroe's vocality with RCA-Victor's "Rubby." Especially Mitchell Parish's poetry. . . . Larry Finley's way-with-a-microphone at H'wood favorite late spot, "Mop," initials for "My Own Place." . . . Dick Stabile's upcoming platter of his "Fog Horn Boogie." . . . The current Fox Movietone newsreel catching Besselink's glee sinking that $10,000 putt.

Sounds in the Night: At Gilmore's: "Where's that waiter? I'm hungry. Get me a Martini!" . . . At the Bandbox: "Neurotic? He's Oldrich!" . . . At the Mocambo: "When you leave me, Darling, I get lonely." . . . At Guy Lombardo's: "She's back in circulation. Her lens expired!" . . . At Orsin's: "How can martini hurt you? Ever hear of a drunken olive?" . . . At El Boracho: "Good god! She had her hair bobbed and let her nose grow!" . . . At McCarthy's Steak House: "They say when her mind snapped you could actually hear the tinkle." . . . At the Gruen b'cast: "America is a better place since the hole-in-one replaced the hole-in-the-head."

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

Perle, Mesta, or Oveta Culp Hobby.

But I wonder if Marilyn Monroe, Dagmar, Zsa Zsa and Eva Gabor would have ever been heard of if they had tried to be Lucies, Mestas, Hobbies.

There are, of course, many examples of women who have made good in business and the professions without the least bit of sexual bait.

Would show me the man who but all things being equal, give the job of secretary to an ugly duckling if, for the same salary, he could have a statuesque and pretty blonde, or an attractive brunette.

One of the facts so many "experts on women" seem to overlook is that women and men have different physical functions in nature.

So, naturally, nature has given them different physical endowments.

Nature, not always being very logical, many authorities notwithstanding, has given the female of the human species many alluring endowments which men, at least in my humble opinion, don't possess.

With animals it is altogether different. Look at your birds this time of the year. Look at the colorful male and compare him with the homely female. Look at your lion—but not too close—the male with his magnificent mane, the female with her plain house dress and not too attractive coiffure.

Why should not woman use all her allurements? Why should she not preen and primp and paint and powder and enhance all her loveliness?

Does the salesman carry shoddy samples? Does a store put the least attractive goods in the show window?

It's had enough that woman's eventual destiny is to have to live with a man such as you and me for the rest of her life.

Why not let her have her brief period of glamor?

Two Workmen Treated For Crash Hurts

Two men employed at the new bridge project, Delaware Water Gap, were injured when a truck in which they were riding went over a slight embankment.

Treated in Monroe County General Hospital Tuesday were Patrick Malley, of Haverstraw, N. Y., the driver, and John Campbell, Greenwood, Pa. Malley suffered contusion of the left lower leg. Campbell received contusion of the right shoulder. Both are employed by Johnson, Drake and Pipher Co.

An East Bangor man working on the New Jersey highway approach from Columbia to Portland fractured his right small finger in another construction accident. John Kittain was working for P. W. Kero Co., Lyndhurst, N. J., when the accident occurred.

State College To Entertain Eisenhowers This Weekend

State College, Pa.—This typical college town reacted like a flustered housewife learning the boss was coming to dinner when it received word yesterday of President Eisenhower's weekend visit.

Already a move was under way to make it simply "a family affair" and a weekend of strict relaxation for the chief executive.

"There's a feeling that we should make his trip as pleasant and comfortable as possible without infringing on his privacy," said a spokesman for The Pennsylvania State College.

The White House announced yesterday that the President will fly to State College with Mrs. Eisenhower Saturday to spend the weekend with his brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the college.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who originally intended to make the trip alone, will stay over to crown "Miss Penn State" on Monday to open a week-long student festival.

Word of the visit spread slowly among the 17,000 townspersons and 11,000 students at the college—the community's major industry. Rumors of the visit had been making the rounds since last November.

The President will arrive while the town is jammed with parents to attend annual Mother's Day ceremonies this weekend. All available space in hotels, motels and tourist homes has been taken for many months.

It will be the second time the President and his First Lady have visited the picturesque campus in the geographical center of Pennsylvania. They spent a day here in October, 1950 when Dr. Eisenhower was inaugurated as Penn State president. The President was head of Columbia University then.

Town and college officials hope

14-Year-Old Deed Recorded Here

A 14-year-old deed recorded yesterday at the Court House showed transfer of 224 acres in Eldred Township to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Borger there. Grantor was E. E. Greenzweig Sr., that township. The property adjoins land of Peter Frantz.

that the visit will go smoothly for the presidential party in hopes that it will be repeated in the future.

The President will stay with his brother in the stately president's mansion on the campus. The comfortable residence is hidden behind several large classroom buildings only a few hundred feet from the town's main intersection.

The Washington announcement didn't indicate whether the president plans to spend some of his time engaging in his favorite sports of golf and fishing. He'll return to Washington Sunday night or Monday morning.

Getts Waives Hearing On Manslaughter

Robert Getts, Allentown, waived to the grand jury yesterday in Stroudsburg on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

Getts was driver of the car involved in an accident at Tobyhanna which resulted in the death of Mrs. Asa English, 70, Gouldsboro, the critical injury of her husband, 78, and the serious injury of Getts and two passengers in his car.

The hearing was at the office of Justice of the Peace William N. Walton, with Trooper James Moran of the Mount Pocono substation as prosecutor.

Getts waived preliminary hearing and no testimony was taken. He was freed on $1,500 cash bail.

Present as spectators at the appearance were Mrs. Mabel English, 66 Prospect St., East Stroudsburg, sister-in-law of English; Charles English, Dover, N. J., brother of the injured man; and a Scranton attorney representing Asa English in the case.

The accident occurred April 22. State police said it was virtually a head-on collision, and that Getts was in the wrong lane.

Fine Confers With Republican Leaders But No Decision Reached On Sales Tax Bill

Harrisburg, (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine and six Republican legislative leaders reviewed the sales tax impost yesterday without reaching any definite decision on strategy.

Speaker Charles C. Smith said closed sessions in the governor's office would continue today.

"The whole thing is in a state of flux," he told newsmen at the end of a 1½-hour meeting. "We reached no decisions."

Smith was asked if the governor would use pressure on a handful of Republican holdouts who have been successful in holding up the 1 per cent sales tax in the House.

"We didn't ask the governor to use pressure and he made no mention of it himself," Smith replied. Fine was unavailable to newsmen.

Both House and Senate adjourned until next Monday when the job of trying to sell the barely-alive sales tax proposal to the membership will be taken up again.

Meanwhile, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, GOP state chairman, issued a statement charging Democratic lawmakers with setting "out to wreck Pennsylvania's public school system and put the blame on the Republican party."

Taylor said he referred to the Democratic opposition to the sales tax which he termed "obstructionist tactics."

There was speculation that a drive would be made to break the solid front of opposition by a 98-vote Democratic bloc in the House.

Cutting state aid to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, both dominated by Democrats, was mentioned as a possible lever to make the inroad.

But Rep. H. G. Andrews, House Democratic leader, stood by his threat that any Democrat who deviates from his party's stand against the sales tax would be read out of the party.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader who sat in on the sales tax conference with the governor, said the leadership would shoot for a May 31 adjournment if the sales tax cleared the House next week.

Abolishment Of Commerce Dept. Voted

Harrisburg, (AP)—Powers of the State Commerce Department would be divided between the Department of Internal Affairs and the Highways Department under legislation passed by the Senate yesterday.

Abolishment of the Commerce Department was approved earlier by the Senate. That bill is now in a House committee. Yesterday's bills went to the House also.

The new measure would give all promotional functions of Commerce relating to business, industry and commerce to Internal Affairs. Tourist advertising, now handled by Commerce, would go to Highways.

Other legislation approved by the Senate yesterday would transfer the State Planning Board and State Aeronautics Commission, two mainstays of the Commerce Department, to Internal Affairs.

Discontinuance of Commerce, along with abolishment of Internal Affairs, was recommended by the Chesterman State Government Survey committee.

New Canadian power plant, seen from U. S. side, will give 1,200,000 horsepower of electricity.

Congress May Someday Okay Construction Of Vast Power Project On Niagara River

Central Press Correspondent
Washington—Congress may take long-overdue action in the current session to authorize construction of a $350 million power project that would provide a vast new source of badly-needed electricity for the northeastern part of the nation by harnessing the Niagara River.

More than two years have already been lost since the 1950 Niagara Diversion Treaty with Canada was ratified, providing for mutual development of new Niagara power, because Congress has delayed a decision on naming the agency to carry out the United States portion of the development. Bills have recently been introduced in both Senate and House proposing authorization of the Niagara development by private utility companies. These provide a rival to previous measures that would provide for federal or New York state development of Niagara's power potentials.

Canada, meanwhile, is well on its way toward completing its $300 million share of the Niagara energy creating plant. When you drive along Canada's side of the Niagara, past the whirlpool below the famous falls, you see extensive construction under way on the Sir Adam Beck-Niagara generating station No. 2.

Canada's big 12-unit powerhouse at the base of the 300-foot rock cliff on the lower Niagara river gorge will ultimately produce 1,200,000 horsepower of electric energy.

The new Canadian power plant is six miles below Niagara Falls. The structure where water will be taken from the Niagara river is two miles above the falls. Two tunnels 5 1/2 miles long and a 2 1/2 mile canal will carry water to the power station. This powerhouse site will produce 50 per cent more power than if the generating station were immediately below the falls, because water will have a 95-foot greater drop.

The 51-foot diameter tunnels will be among the largest of their kind in the world. A three-foot circular lining of concrete will reduce their interior dimension to 45 feet. About 490,000 cubic yards of concrete will line each tunnel.

Construction of the tunnels and their five access shafts involve excavating and removing several million tons of rock. The tunnels will run beneath the city of Niagara Falls, Ont. They will empty into the canal, whose 200-foot width and 70-foot depth compare in size to the Suez canal. This canal can handle 40,000 cubic feet of water a second.

Penstocks weighing 500 tons each will control the flow of water at the top of the 300-foot cliff. When the diverted water rushes through these penstocks that will convert this man-made waterfall into electric energy. When all 12 units are completed, the station will be 850 feet long, 60 feet wide, and 60 feet high.

Some 640 acres near the outskirts of Niagara Falls, Ont., serve as a disposal area where dump trucks carry rock and earth from the tunnel, canal, and powerhouse excavations. When the power development is completed, these disposal areas will be graded and landscaped.

Twenty-five miles of company-constructed roads between excavation points and disposal areas keep the trucks off routes followed by tourists and local residents. Estimates are that the peak of construction will require 5,000 workmen, and three camps have been constructed for them, complete with recreation facilities, a 20-bed hospital and sanitation services.

The Niagara Diversion Treaty specified that the beauty of Niagara Falls must be preserved. At least 100,000 cubic feet of water a second must flow over the Niagara cataracts during daylight hours in late spring, summer and early fall.

At night throughout the year, and during daylight in late autumn, winter and early spring, only 50,000 cubic feet a second are required over the falls. Both nations, therefore, can utilize greater quantities of Niagara water at night and during late autumn, winter and early spring months when electricity demands are greatest and Niagara Falls tourists are fewest.

An international board is studying ways of constructing remedial works that will assure an even distribution of water over the brims of both Niagara cataracts and preserve the beauty of the famous falls.

Canadians hope to have seven units of their new hydro plant operating by 1955. They expect to have the other five ready for operation in 1959. They are not particularly worried because power-scarce Americans across the river are still playing politics over who shall develop the treaty-authorized power.

Congress now has the opportunity to make the decision that will harness this precious and now-wasted energy—and Niagara honeymooners will never notice the difference in the roar, the mist, or the beauty of the falls.

Second Bingo Bill To Be Introduced

Harrisburg, Pa.—The House yesterday awaited introduction of a second bill to legalize bingo because it "would have a better chance of passage" than a measure now in committee.

"I don't think the bill we have now is workable," T. Luke Toomey (R-Perry), chairman of the House Law and Order Committee, told newsmen. "I think one to permit only charitable organizations to hold bingo would have a better chance of passage. We would give such a measure full consideration."

The present bill, introduced by Rep. James J. Gleason (R-Lycoming), would permit counties to license bingo operators but doesn't distinguish between charitable organizations and other groups.

Rep. Preston A. Frost (R-Centre) said he is thinking about introducing a measure similar to the one Toomey described.

"I was planning to introduce a bingo bill earlier in the session but when one came in before mine I saw no reason to put in another," Frost said.

Toomey said that "up until Tuesday I hadn't received a single letter on the bingo question."

"However," he added, "yesterday I received a petition from Lancaster containing well over a thousand signatures urging legislation of bingo for fire companies and charitable organizations."

At a meeting of the Young Adults Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, held recently at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Edward Horn, various matters of interest to the group as related to church activities were discussed. A new project being undertaken by the class is the sale of mail box and doorway signs and house markers of a fluorescent type which can be read at night. Any member of the class may be contacted for detailed information about the installation of same. They also talked over the public auction to be held in the firehouse on the night of June 26. Those who attended this meeting were Mrs. Vera Walters, Mrs. Edith Brong, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shook, Mrs. Virginia Gantzhorn, Walter H. Sebring, Betty Woodling, Mrs. Betty Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brader and Rev. and Mrs. Horn and son Frank. Refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the social hour.

A special program for Mother's Day, May 10, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, has been announced. It will be a combined service of the church and Sunday school, starting at 9:30, and dedicated to mothers. There will be no separate church service later. Special recognition will be made of the oldest mother present, the youngest and the mother with the most children present.

Attention is called to the convenience furnished for the public by the telephone booth outside the post office in the village. This is available 24 hours a day and has proved of much benefit to those who find themselves stranded or have no other means of contacting friends or resorts or who may wish conveyance, and hesitate to intrude on any private telephone.

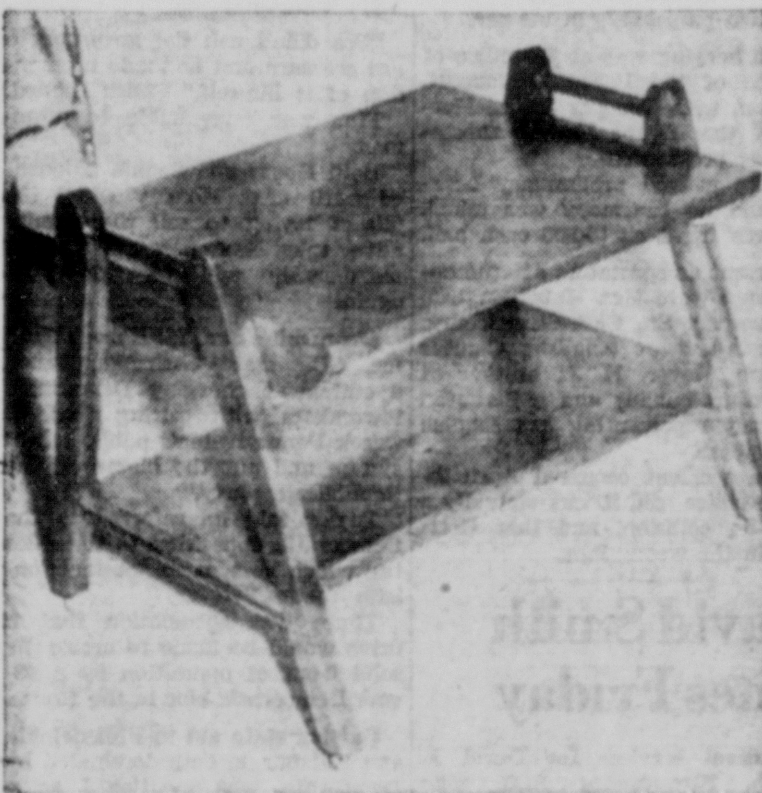

There was a meeting of Council members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church held on Friday night, May 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Learn.

Anything might happen in our locality. Coming out of a store recently, one of our residents passed a car parked near the entrance and was startled on glancing toward the front of same to see a pair of women's bare feet resting against the windshield. A second glance showed a hole in each sole, so curiosity becoming too compelling, this citizen looked closer inside the vehicle and was relieved to see it was not a living person but a display mannequin of life-like resemblance. Since he had been looking at the titles of the many "Who-dun-its" in the store, the incident was probably more noticeable than it would otherwise have been.

(Fifth in a series of articles on mandatory regrouping of school districts into five major units under a revised county plan.)

Most complex in scope of the five units suggested by Monroe County School Directors for a revised county plan is Unit 5.

This unit, if approved by the county and the State, would set up organization for one school grouping which will include East Stroudsburg borough, Price, Smithfield and Middle Smithfield Townships in Monroe and Porter and Lehman Townships in Pike County.

The latter two townships have already been released from the Pike County plan, paving the way legally for their inclusion in Monroe's Unit 5.

Release of the townships is basically a gesture since Porter and Lehman students already attend the East Stroudsburg High School.

The unit may be considered more complex in that it takes in more actual geographic territory than does any other single unit set up by the county's suggested plan.

Under terms of the State School Facilities Survey's plan, a combination of Units 2 and 3 would be considerably larger. County school directors object strongly to that reappointment, however.

Unit 5 would serve an estimated 1,400 to 1,500 students. Here's the way the unit would shape up if it were now in effect:

East Stroudsburg borough schools now have 974 students, not including those pupils in the State Teachers College laboratory school and St. Matthew's Parochial School. These two schools now serve 452 pupils.

To educate the 974 children, the borough maintains a large combination high school-elementary center on N. Courtland St. and a junior high school center on E. Broad St.

Smithfield has its own elementary center at Minisink Hills.

Mrs. Paul Barry,
Phone 1421-R-4

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Treble on the arrival of a son, born Monday in the Monroe County General Hospital.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weidman, who celebrated their 14th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, April 29.

On Saturday Mrs. R. W. Bates and daughter Florence motored to Sciota, N. Y., where they visited Mrs. Hannah Katz and family, returning home Sunday afternoon.

Grades one through eight are educated there. The township now has 241 grade school pupils; sends 62 high school students to both East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg borough schools.

Middle Smithfield, at Echo Lake, has a one-through-eight grade school with 109 now enrolled. Its 31 high school pupils are being sent to East Stroudsburg.

Price Township has no school buildings of any kind. Price children in grade school are being sent to Stroud Township. Its 15 high school students are enrolled in East Stroudsburg High School.

In the event of unification of the townships, Price's grade school children would probably be sent to either East Stroudsburg (where township secondary students are now being educated) or to one of the other elementary schools in its unit.

Some changes would be necessary in the dispatch of high school students to Stroudsburg from Smithfield if the latter district became a unified part of Unit 5. Stroudsburg will be a member of Unit 4.

Pike County's Porter Township has only three elementary and four high school pupils. All are now in East Stroudsburg schools. Porter has no school building.

A total of 41 grade school pupils are now enrolled in Lehman Township's one-through-six grade school. Lehman's 30 high school students go to East Stroudsburg. Using these figures as a base, Unit 5 (if it were now in existence) would be responsible for the education of about 1,525 children.

This figure, however, includes some non-resident tuition pupils who are now enrolled in the East Stroudsburg High School. Some of these districts (Stroud Township with 55; Water Gap with 4 and two townships from Northampton County) may not eventually be able to send tuition pupils to the unit.

With their own units in operation, some of the districts may not need to do so.

No indication was given in either the suggested plan submitted by county school directors or the alternative plan first shown by the school survey's State officials, of arrangements which would be made for students from Upper Mount Bethel Township and Portland Borough in Northampton.

Presumably this would be taken into consideration prior to final acceptance of any school plan for the county.

In terms of radical change, nothing drastic is apparent in any of the proposals made by either State or county officials, with the exception of the SSFS recommendation for placing both Units 2 and 3 in one group.

County objections to this proposal have been strong, based on what county directors feel is a logical transportation difficulty which could not be reasonably worked out.

No objections were raised by the county board to State School Facilities Survey Chairman Harold Martin's proposals for Unit 5.

In general, the proposed plan follows outlines of school service already in operation.

Spring Meeting Of County Woman's Clubs at Buck Hill

The Monroe County Federation of Women's Clubs have announced the complete program for their Spring meeting to be held Friday, May 8 at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls with the Barrett Woman's Club as hostesses to members of the five clubs which compose the federation.

Mrs. Harry Shinnon of the Barrett Woman's Club is president of the federation. The program has been dedicated to Mothers, and to women all over the world who are "Learning, Living and Working Together," theme of the state federation programs this year.

The program will open with registration from 10 to 10:30 a. m. when the call to order will be given. The pledge of allegiance to the flag will be led by Mrs. Walter T. Caulfield, president-elect of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club with the invocation given by Mrs. A. A. Holbrook, past president of the Monroe County Federation.

Mrs. Clifford Gilliam, president of the Barrett Woman's Club, will give the address of welcome. Mrs. Shinnon will be in charge of the business meeting which will feature reports by the presidents of all the member clubs on their activities during the past year. Mrs. George Robinson will report for the Stroudsburg Woman's Club; Mrs. Richard Fredenberg for the Stroudsburg Juniors; Mrs. Marvin Krome for the Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg; Mrs. Herman H. Voelker for the Keystone Club of Matamoras and Mrs. Clifford Gilliam for the Barrett Woman's Club.

Mrs. Harold N. MacMurray will describe Barrett's trip to the United Nations last month, and Mrs. Warren N. Edson, vice president of the Northeastern District, will speak on the resolutions sponsored by the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs which will be voted upon at the state convention in Pittsburgh next week.

The luncheon at 12:30 will be opened with an invocation by Mrs. John Sibley, president-elect of the Junior Woman's Club.

The afternoon session is scheduled for 2 p. m. with the state song led by Mrs. Edward C. Hess, county music chairman; with Mrs. John N. Gish as accompanist. Mrs. Clayton Fetherman, past president of the Monroe County Federation, will give the invocation.

Mrs. Samuel McCartney, first vice president of the state federation, will be the chief speaker. There will also be a reading by Mrs. Elizabeth Hill Conrad, and special musical selections by Miss Marie Brendel with George Bisset as accompanist.

The Barrett women in charge of the Spring meeting include Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, general chairman; Miss Ida Shafer and Mrs. Andrew Lewis, registration; Mrs. John Segline and Mrs. Wayland Ford, decorations and flowers; Mrs. Mathias Fisher, Mrs. Marie Brendel and Mrs. Charles Anderson, corsages.

Reports will be given by the other officers of the county federation: Mrs. Edward C. Hess, first vice president; Mrs. H. J. Pine Jr., second vice president; Mrs. Frank Rowe, recording secretary; Mrs. S. B. Rader, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Grant Knowles, treasurer.

There will also be reports by the department chairmen: Mrs. C. R. Michener, American home; Mrs. H. A. Lorenz, art; Mrs. David Weber, citizenship; Mrs. Lydia Horwetter, education; Mrs. Van D. Yetter Jr., finance; Mrs. C. W. Lester, international relations; Mrs. J. N. Gish, legislation; Mrs. J. J. Cummings, motion pictures; Mrs. A. Serfass, peace; Mrs. J. N. Ebling, program; Mrs. Andrew Lewis, publicity; Mrs. Joseph Swaine, public welfare; Mrs. Harry Phillips, youth conservation; Mrs. Dallas Abers, radio and television; Mrs. Herbert O. Ryder, historian; Mrs. Delbert Frizzel, safety and Mrs. John Regan, literature.

Linda Ahnert 8-Years-Old Has A Party

Bushkill, Linda Ahnert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ahnert, Jr. was guest of honor at a party celebrating her eighth birthday on Sunday at the Pavilion, Club Fernwood.

The party motif was in the Walt Disney characters theme with hats and favors accordingly. Games of "Pin the Ear on Pluto," "Hot Potato," "Simon Says" and "Statues" were played, the young miss received many gifts from her friends.

A hot dog roast was featured with refreshments of hot dogs, chips, marshmallows, birthday cake, coke and ice cream. Linda's guests included David Ahnert, Susan and Debbie Barr, Chubby Laubner, Joan Zabale, Katy Ann Leonard, Joseph MacIntire, Deirdre MacCallister, Sharon Kitchen, Barbara and Judy Rhodes, Henry and John Kraft, Diane Albert and Rosalie Chotson.

Attends PTA Testimonial

Sciota, William S. Lesh, accompanied by Charles Wans of Weatherly, attended a special meeting of three PTA associations in South River, N. J., on Tuesday night, April 28 held in honor of Wilbur A. Bryan, principal of South River High School, who is retiring at the end of the school term.

Campbell School, Willet School and the Lincoln School make up the three associations, one of them with 275 members.

Girl Scout Leaders Final Meeting Tonight

The Girl Scout Leaders Association will hold its final meeting of the season tonight at 7:30 at the Girl Scout House. Plans will be made for a bake sale in June, and for a Brownie Outing at Camp Lloyd Treible.

Plans will also be discussed for the three-week day camp session. Leaders are asked to bring in the names of the girls in their troops who sold the most cookies during the recent cookie sale.

A training program on all Scouting levels will deal with records necessary for troops.

Sunshine Class Honors Teacher At Leedom Home

The Sunshine Class of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church honored its teacher, Mrs. Maude Stem, and the hostess at the meeting Tuesday night, Mrs. Isabel Leedom.

The meeting was held at the Leedom summer home in Marshalls Creek with 27 members present. The group voted to give $10 to the YMCA drive. They will also man a booth at Wyckoff's on Monday to receive old linens for cancer dressings and will make dressings on Thursday, May 14.

Mrs. Stem who is leaving soon for a trip to the West Coast will miss the class picnic on June 30 when the class usually honors her birthday, so they moved the birthday celebration up to this month, and presented her with a gift of money.

The Leedom's are also planning a trip to the West and they were given the best wishes of the class. Mrs. Leedom gave two readings, "The Mother's Questions" and "Ma and Her Check Book." Refreshments were served.

Lodges Combine For Rummage Sales

Members of Laurel Court, Order of Amaranth and the Rebekahs of the West End are combining to hold a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday of this week at the little storeroom next to the Plaza Theatre.

Laurel Court will be in charge on Friday and the Rebekahs on Saturday. Anyone with rummage to contribute may call Mrs. Samuel Gearhart.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Whatever the calendar says it was last week that was Music Week in the Stroudsburgs and this week is Bowling Banquet Week, at least in our household, and next week will be Political Week, and the week after that will be final meetings of the year for most of the federated clubs.

And then it's over—the whole busy season when your month was laid out in neat series of first Mondays and third Thursdays. Somewhere along the line the year has speeded up, or else we've lost part of it somewhere because we never got to the end so fast before.

Since this is the time of annual reports for many of the organizations, including the County of Federation Woman's Club this Friday, as you notice, so maybe we'd better be thinking up sort of an annual report, too.

Even without looking up facts and figures I can tell you that the clubwomen of this county have done a tremendous job—and that includes the lodges and auxiliaries and the church organizations, too.

In working for community benefit, in making life more interesting for their members, and in contributing to the common welfare, they've been tops. And also in refreshments, may I add.

I hope they enjoy their well-earned rest.

Day Care School Has Election

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Day Care Training School for retarded children held its annual election of officers at the monthly meeting on May 3. The meeting took place at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church where the school is located.

Those elected to office include the following: Mrs. Camille Harvey, chairman; Mrs. Walter R. Strunk, vice chairman; Mrs. R. Irvin Walter, secretary; Mrs. J. E. Wood, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Rider, ways and means.

Miss Harriet Sebring, teacher of the class, gave a progress report and displayed some of the material achievements attained by the children. These were of much interest and demonstrated the accomplishments that can be made when retarded children are guided along lines of proper development. Much credit is due Miss Sebring for her fine work.

Other items discussed at the meeting included a trip to the Wild Animal Farm and a term end party at the end of the school year for the class.

Lutheran Women Today In Allentown

The Spring meeting of the Women's Society of the Allentown Conference of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania which includes 80 societies in Lehigh, Northampton and Monroe Counties will be held at Christ Lutheran Church, 13th and Hamilton Sts., Allentown, with sessions at 2 and 7.

Fifteen workshops analyzing the functions of the various departments will be held this afternoon. Mrs. H. Edwin Eisenhart will present the Tri-ennial Emphasis on the theme "The Ministry of Mercy."

After a box supper, a vesper service will be held with Mrs. Sedoris McCartney, missionary on furlough from Japan, as the guest speaker. Her topic will be "Light For Dark Hearts."

VFW Council To Meet Here On Sunday

The Eastern Counties Council of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held in Stroudsburg on Sunday afternoon at the Thomas P. Lambert Post. The meeting will begin at 2:30.

The Council President, Muriel Hughes, of Stroudsburg will preside at the meeting when officers for the coming year will be nominated and elected.

Mrs. Hughes has requested all delegates and the members of her local auxiliary to attend the meeting, and has asked the color bearers of the Thomas P. Lambert Post to take part at the meeting which will be her last one as president of the inter-county group.

Young Women's Club Guests At Hochrein's

Portland—The Young Women's Club of Portland and Mt. Bethel was entertained on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Hochrein at Portland. Mrs. Gladys May, president, presided.

Present at the meeting were: Mrs. Joyce Pensyl, Mrs. Ruth Hochrein, Mrs. Phyllis Hochrein, and Mrs. Gladys May of Portland; Mrs. Caroline Horne, Mrs. Marion Jones, Mrs. Marian Reagle, Mrs. Pauline Messinger, Mrs. Shirley Strunk, Mrs. Helen Hanser, Mrs. Iva Staples, Mrs. Esther Overfield, Mrs. Gloria Rice of Mt. Bethel.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Muriel Ross was welcomed as a new member.

"What is the shape of a kiss?" a customer demanded the other day as he stopped at our jewelry department.

Our department head was mystified, thinking that he probably wished to buy a piece of jewelry in a pursed lip design. "Why, I really don't know," she replied, "Do you?"

"No," the shopper answered, "but if you give me one I'll call it square."

Maybe the joke's old . . . though I can't remember hearing it before . . . but it's worth a chuckle, just as the newly arrived Beau Sterling jewelry is worth a second glance and a lot of respectful consideration.

Edna Harmon and Betty LaBarre were ticking it yesterday, and they'll continue today, some of the pieces still being under wraps. Those I saw were very tempting to anyone who likes pretty things. There is one very dainty, yet heavy appearing, square pin which is lovely for all-purpose wear. Tiny flowers form a filigree type pattern that is lacy and feminine, and the same flowers in long-stemmed bouquets comprise the earrings. Silver crowns also took my eye—sturdy, smartly designed crowns in medium size for the ears, and a large crown for a pin. Another pin has a design that resembles bows of rope fastened together. The same rope bows fit snugly against the ear lobes.

Then, for the girl with a sense of humor, or a yen for things dramatic, there are silver masks—one of tragedy, and one of happiness, to use as scatter pins at one's lapel or neckline. Any of these would so nicely into the jewel box of any woman, and would make a Mother's Day gift that would give pleasure for years to come. For there's nothing more durable or prized in the field of jewelry than sterling.

These Beau Craft pieces range in price from $1 to $10, plus tax, and there are bracelets, necklaces, scatter pins, and earrings. Sterling and Mother . . . two words of precious quality that combine happily.

Never have I seen cuter dolls than these from Portugal now on display in our center aisle. Made of a material resembling velveteen with pretty painted faces, they are dressed in authentic costumes, exquisitely made with touches of beading, embroidery, and braid. There's a bride that would be perfect in any collection . . . and a set of whimsical musicians that bring a smile to your lips every time you see them. Particularly do I relish the little fellow with the felt accordion—THERE is a collector's item. In fact, it's quite a temptation to pass one's hat and start collecting, just to own him!

Career Day Marked At Pocono High

Tannersville — Yesterday was "Career Day" at Pocono High School.

Speakers from 13 trades and professions addressed students on job opportunities in their fields.

Coordinator of the afternoon program was Richard DeHaven, guidance counselor at the school, who worked in cooperation with Supervising Principal Lawrence Wile and other teachers.

The program began at 2 p.m., continued until 3:30, normal closing time at the school.

Each of the guest speakers was introduced to the group of students by a homeroom instructor and a student guide.

Students had been asked previously to express a preference for the type of work they were interested in hearing discussed.

Speakers were the following: Mrs. Alberta Horn, nursing; Miss Marie Quinn, home economics; Mrs. Jean Albert, social work; Lt. Frances Chaffer, women's army service; A/IC Ellen Mulderig, women's air force units; Charles Churchman, business and business colleges.

Major John R. Parker, U.S. Army; Wilmer B. Frisbie, shop and agriculture; Dr. John R. Wildrick, teaching; Carleton Long, utilities; Pvt. Alexander Kearn, police; Robert Zeigler, body and fender work; Verdon Frailey, insurance and Leonard Randolph, journalism.

Following completion of the two periods during which the speakers talked with two separate groups, the home economics department served coffee and cookies in the school's dining room.

Mrs. Robert Zeigler, home economics instructor, supervised the preparation of refreshments. She was assisted by Harriet Levan, Beverly Casella, Geraldine Hall and Dorothy Bessinger.

Students at the school expressed enthusiasm for the program as did Mr. Wile and Mr. DeHaven who also thanked the representatives for their interest in the school and its student body.

4-Way Proof that Dollar for Dollar you can't beat a Pontiac

Good Drivers Drive Safe Cars
Check Your Car — Check Accidents

A GENERAL MOTORS MASTERPIECE

Here's how to prove Pontiac value:

First, get behind the wheel and drive it—see how Pontiac puts you out in front in traffic, skims you along the open road with surprising economy; how its big, husky high-compression engine provides power to spare.

Next, take a good long look at its distinctive styling and its luxurious color-matched interiors.

Consider, also, Pontiac's reputation for unsurpassed dependability, long-range economy and high resale value.

Finally, compare its low price—so low, in fact, that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac. Why not come in and see for yourself?

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Joe Antonocci, cool right handed pitcher for East Stroudsburg High school, continues to hurl in hard luck, having lost two games as against only one win this season. Joe actually should be coasting along with three victories and no defeats, but costly errors by his supporting cast in the two setbacks proved fatal in each instance. Five errors killed the right hander in the Parkland contest and a couple of faulty infield plays yesterday gave Nazareth a 4-3 win over the Cavaliers in the final inning.

Gene Plaza, making his first start on the East Stroudsburg varsity, began the seventh and final round by throwing wild on a routine groundout and before the dust had cleared Nazareth had scored three times to pull ahead after facing a 3-1 deficit most of the distance. Plaza came up with some fine work at the hot corner during the course of the game and a freshman starting his first game of varsity baseball is certainly entitled to an error or two. Gene certainly looks like a comer from this angle.

Dan Slutter won his own game by blasting a single to left field with the sacks loaded in the last inning, but it took another hard throw on the part of the East Stroudsburg infield to make victory certain for the Nazareth contingent. Seip's hit topped off a well pitched game. Seip, who tossed a no-hitter against Phillipsburg High last year, is only a sophomore at the present time, but will reportedly be ineligible for further baseball next season. Harold White and Dick Transue, both of Eastburg, accounted for the only extra base hits of the game when they unloaded long doubles.

Gene Hartzell, the same umpire who worked behind the plate in the recent Stroudsburg-Whitehall contest at Gordon Giffels field, worked on the bases during yesterday's contest at East Stroudsburg Playground. Gene is a resident of Easton. Andy Leh, baseball coach at Nazareth High, is the same mentor that has turned out one fine grid machine after another at the same school. Antonocci and George Litts, right fielder for East Stroudsburg, plan to play with Tannersville, Pocono Mountains League, at the end of the present Lehigh-Northampton League campaign.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College won't enter the State Teachers College Track meet at Shippensburg on Saturday for the first time since Coach Howard DeNike took over the track duties 30 years ago. Confusion with the annual senior spring dance has been a conflict in recent years and it was decided to pass up the state meet this year. The Warriors were originally scheduled to run against Cheyney, on the Normal Hill track on Saturday, but Cheyney changed its plans and is now running in the state meet at Shippensburg.

Ties are common as far as high jumpers on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College track squad are concerned. In three dual meets thus far this season Roger Neilson, named captain of the squad yesterday, and Dave Lutz have deadlocked for victory. One just doesn't seem able to defeat the other. Annual award day for athletics at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will be held next Thursday. ESSTC's next track meet is with Montclair, a week from Saturday, at Montclair. Montclair recently tied West Chester 63-63, and West Chester opened the season with a victory over ESSTC.

Dale Johnson, veteran stock car driver from Reders, is driving at Bone Stadium again. Dale, recently discharged from the Army, used to drive at Bone before entering the service and is now back at the scene of former triumphs. Speaking of racing brings to mind the fact that Stroudsburg Speedway will feature stock car racing every Saturday night during the coming summer months. There may be as many as four big car races on the half-mile dirt oval located near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg airport. One thrill show may also be featured at the local track.

Francis Stegner is currently hard at work selling ads for the Stroudsburg Speedway program. The Liberty Stock Car club, the organization that will supply cars for the various shows this season is currently in its third year of operation. Harold Snider, manager of the local track, is the founder of the now defunct Atlantic Stock Car Club. All stock car shows will be held at night this season according to present plans. The first action is listed for Saturday, May 23.

Harry Werkheiser, coach of baseball and basketball at Pocono High, is going to Washington, D. C., with the senior class next week. Bill Hibbs, a member of the ESSTC track and field squad, originally went out for the local college's baseball team this spring, but switched to track and field before the opening of the present campaign. Both the Pocono Mountains and Blue Mountain baseball leagues open their respective campaigns on Sunday.

Nazareth Rallies In Seventh To Down Eastburg, 4-3

Antonocci's Two Hit Effort Wasted

Joe Antonocci, senior right hander, pitched a brilliant two-hitter for East Stroudsburg High yesterday, but but some weak infield play and a wild throw on his part enabled Nazareth to score three times in the seventh and final inning and earn a 4-3 verdict. The Lehigh-Northampton League contest was played at East Stroudsburg Playground.

Antonocci's loss was his second in three outings, with both setbacks being the direct result of errors. Joe gave up a single to Don Riemiller in the fourth and the payoff single to winning pitcher Dan Slutter in the seventh, with the bases completely populated.

East Stroudsburg rolled into the final inning with a 3-1 lead and appeared destined to win its second league game in three outings.

Two errors by Gene Plaza at third and a walk filled the sacks to capacity. Antonocci took a hitch in his belt and retired the next two batters on strikes, to the delight of the large crowd in attendance.

Payoff Slutter picked on the second ball pitched and slammed a liner into the hole between third and short. The ball rolled into the outfield and the second and tying runs crossed the plate.

Antonocci cut off the relay and in his haste to cut down George Walakovich at third, threw the ball far into foul territory. The Nazareth third sacker raced home with the winning run.

Coach Jack Kist sent two pinch hitters into the game in the bottom of the seventh, but Slutter retired the side in order to end the game. The Cavaliers return to action tomorrow, tangling with Pen Argyl High, on the latter's home field in Weona Park.

Riley Scores TKO Over Gallardo

Washington, (AP)—Charlie Riley clobbered Dave Gallardo to bloody defeat in a bruising featherweight brawl last night. Referee Ray Bowen stopped the fight at 1:07 of the seventh round after Riley nearly knocked Gallardo out of the ring.

Toe-To-Toe The crowd whooped and hollered from start to finish as the two men fought toe-to-toe almost from the opening whistle.

Wilson Upsets Bangor, 3-2

Wilson Borough—Bangor High went down to its first baseball defeat of the current campaign yesterday when Wilson Borough scored three times in the second round to finish on the long end of a 3-2 count. The Lehigh-Northampton League contest was played here on the winning team's home field.

Rodney Taylor worked the entire distance for the visiting Slaters, and except for the second round pitched shutout ball.

Leads Attack Joe Heard accounted for half of the Bangor hits, but two tallies in the visiting half of the sixth was the limit of the scoring for the Slaters.

ESSTC Rolls Over Ithaca To Land Initial Track Victory

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College put on its best track and field showing of the current season yesterday, as the Warriors won over Ithaca College, 83-43, on the Normal Hill track.

The home team, winning for the first time in three dual meets, came up with nine first places, eight seconds and nine thirds. The ESSTC charges of Coach Howard DeNike swept all three places in three events.

Double Winners Art Nuss, Bob Brown and Ted Murray were two-time winners for the home team. Nuss paced the field in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes, while Brown won the mile and two mile runs. Murray came home first in the 440-yard event and then tied with teammate Lee Hill for the number one pole vault position.

Roger Neilson, high jump star and veteran of three years on the track squad, was named captain of the team for the present season at a pre-meet meeting.

Normal Hill Tennis Squad Bows, 6-3

Trenton—Rider College took the measure of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in tennis for the second time this year yesterday, 6-3, as the visiting net contingent suffered its fifth loss in six trips to the courts. The initial Rider win was by a 5-4 margin.

Rider took an early lead in yesterday's rain marred match, as Ed Torres won over Don Toth, ESSTC, 6-1, 6-1, and Ray Richter took the measure of Joe Maioriello, ESSTC, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3.

First Win Carson Deffenbaugh gave ESSTC its first win in the number three singles, by a 6-2, 7-5, margin over John Woodward. Charley Goldner, Rider, defeated Craig Leatherman, 6-0, 4-6, 6-3; Ralph Pierce, Rider, won over Dick McDonough, 6-2, 6-2 and Bill Maioriello, ESSTC, beat Dick Durkin, 9-7, 6-1.

Rider won the first two doubles matches as Torres and Richter teamed to defeat Joe Maioriello and Deffenbaugh, 6-2, 7-5, and Pierce and Woodward combined to down Tony Black and Toth, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

ESSTC won the final doubles match as Bill Maioriello and Leatherman won over Goldner and Tom McGrath, 6-2, 8-6.

The net Warriors return to action tomorrow, in Brooklyn, with Brooklyn Poly supplying the opposition.

Clearview Triumphs

Clearview scored an 8-7 softball victory over Middle Smithfield school yesterday, on the winning team's home grounds. Paul Frailey was the winning pitcher in a relief role and Fish, the losing pitcher, homered for Middle Smithfield.

with Beseker's Diner, winning by a 14-6 score, at East Stroudsburg Junior High school.

Newman's club was forced to fight back from a 5-2 deficit in the fifth inning to win by a 6-5 count in eight frames, one over regulation distance.

The winning aggregation scored three times in the top of the seventh to even the count.

Today's schedule will send the Eagles against Tucker's Chevrolet, at East Stroudsburg Junior High, and Jack's Market against IAM, at Stroudsburg Playground. Both games are carded for 6:15 p. m.

An important business meeting of all league members will be held at the Monroe County YMCA on Monday, at 8:30 p. m.

Dodgers Clip Cardinals, 7-3

Brooklyn, (AP)—A two-run single by Roy Campanella followed by Gil Hodges' first home run of the season highlighted a four-run sixth inning and gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 7-3 protested victory over the St. Louis Cardinals last night. The triumph moved Brooklyn within a half game of the front-running Philadelphia Phillies—who were rained out.

Rider Inflicts Fourth Loss Of Season On Warriors, 9-3

Trenton—East Stroudsburg State Teachers College went down to its fourth baseball defeat in seven outings this season yesterday, when a strong Rider College contingent picked up a 9-3 victory, here on the latter's home field.

Holloman In No-Hitter For Browns

St. Louis (AP)—Alva "Bobo" Holloman pitched his way into the record books last night by hurling a no-hitter for the St. Louis Browns in his first major league start. He held the Philadelphia Athletics hitless as the Browns won, 6-0.

The 27-year-old Holloman is the second pitcher in baseball history to twirl a hitless game in his debut. Charley Jones did the trick for Cincinnati back in 1892.

Holloman faced 31 batters, striking out three. Only six men reached base against him, five by walks and one on his own error in the fifth inning.

He drove in three of the Browns' six walks with a pair of singles. In the ninth inning, Holloman walked the first two men to face him, but forced Dave Philley to hit into a double play.

Final Out Loren Babe then followed with another walk. Eddie Robinson lifted a fly to Vic Wertz in right field to end the game.

The 27-year-old Holloman had appeared in only four games in relief prior to last night's game. Holloman, a right-hander, who last year won 16 and lost 7 for Syracuse in the International League, walked five batters.

Brilliantly supported, particularly by shortstop Bill Hunter, the six-foot-two inch Holloman mowed down the Athletics until the ninth inning.

His was the first nine-inning no-hitter won by a Brownie pitcher since Bob Groom turned the trick exactly 36 years ago, on May 6, 1917.

Invitation Tourney Opens At Shawnee

Shawnee-on-Delaware—A field of 140 top-flight amateur golfers, from Maine to Florida, and from the mid-west, will tee-off in the 30th annual Shawnee Invitation golf tournament today at the Shawnee Inn and Country Club.

It is the first big amateur tournament in the east this season. Olin Cerochi, Bayside, L. I., Long Island champion and 1952 winner of the invitation, will defend his title against a field that includes Tom Robbins, Larchmont, N. Y., national seniors champion; Ellis Taylor, Delaware State champion from Wilmington, and runner-up to Cerochi last year; Howard Everitt, Atlantic City, former Philadelphia and Pennsylvania champion; J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia, one of the nation's all-time greats; Hobart Manley, Savannah, Ga., winner of the 1951 North-South title; Francis "Pooch" Allan, a former invitation title-winner from Pittston, Dominic Strafaci, Brooklyn, N. Y., and a host of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, and New England players.

Dr. Francis Wichenbach, Bath, Maine, and Peter Arend, Miami and Allentown, will also be among the starters.

First Time

It is the first time in many years the Shawnee Invitation has been played so early in the season. For the past few years the tournament has been played in July. Fred Waring, president of Shawnee and who has carried out plans for many changes in the course, scheduled the tournament for May this year so the players would see and play the course at its best.

An 18-hole medal play round today will determine the flights for the championship match play which starts tomorrow and continues through to the finals Sunday.

The Shawnee Invitation is one of the oldest amateur golf tournaments in the country. It was started in 1912, the year the course was first completed. Over the period of years it has always attracted a field of fine players from all parts of the United States. Reggie Worthington, winner of the first tournament in 1912 and who won the title again in 1914, will be on hand to watch the field tee-off. Championship awards will be presented at a dinner Sunday.

Giants Hand Seventh Straight
Setback To Staggering Cubs

New York, (AP)—The New York Giants blasted six Chicago pitchers in a 15-hit attack yesterday to hand the Cubs their seventh straight loss, 8-5, in a three-hour five-minute struggle.

A big six-run rally in the fifth inning did the trick with the help of two-hit relief pitching by Al Corbin and Hoyt Wilhelm down the last five innings.

The Giants tied a National League record with only one assist—a throw by Sal Maglie to double Roy Smalley on first base in the fourth inning. Three other National League teams have had only one assist, the last being Pittsburgh in 1950. The American League record is no assists.

Ten Giants went to bat in the fifth when six singles, a double and a base on balls added up to six runs.

Garver ran off the mound looking for a hunt in the sixth when his leg buckled. Jack Homel, Tiger trainer, merely ran onto the field and slipped it back into place. In addition to Garver, three other Tigers knocked in two runs—Bob Nieman, Walt Dropo and Steve Souchock.

The Tigers scored three runs in the first inning on four straight singles by Harvey Kuenn, Dan Lund, Nieman and Dropo.

Washington bounced back, however, and took the lead with a four-run blast in the fifth, three coming on Clyde Vollmer's homer into the lower right field stand.

Sears
Carry A Complete Line Of

S. S. Benefits Total $53,000 During Month

Social security payments totaling $52,997 went to 1,326 people in Monroe County in December 1952, according to Marie T. Miller, manager of the Easton social security office. This was an increase of 21 percent over payments at the end of 1951.

The men and women 65 or over who had worked long enough to qualify for old-age insurance benefits made up the largest group of beneficiaries and received larger amounts than dependents and survivors. Numbering 765, they received $35,415 for the month, an average of $46.30. Most of them were from 65 to 74 and received payments after meeting the test of retirement given in the law; those 75 or over could receive payments even though they were still working.

In the smaller groups, 110 aged widows and dependent widowers received $4,213, 205 wives and dependent husbands received $5,003, and seven aged dependent parents received $243.

Not all of the Monroe County people entitled to payments were 65 or older. Monthly checks went to 239 mothers and children—some of them dependents of retired men, but most of them survivors of those who had died. The payments to 51 mothers amounted to $1,917 in December, and 188 children received $6,107.

Changes made by the 1950 and 1952 amendments to the Social Security Act accounted for a considerable part of the increases, both in the number of people receiving benefits and in the amount of their payments. In 1950 the law was changed to include millions of people not covered before, and to make it easier for them to qualify for payments. Among those newly covered were self-employed people and regularly employed household and farm workers.

In 1952 changes, effective in September, raised the amounts of practically all benefits, gave social security credits for military service after the end of World War II, and provided that a person can be considered "retired" even though he is earning as much as $75 a month.

In the Nation at the end of December, monthly payments amounting to $205,178,965 were being made to 5,025,549 people. Among them, according to Miss Miller, were two out of five of the retired aged. About 80 percent of civilian jobs are covered by the law; four out of five of the mothers and children in the country can count on monthly insurance payments in case of the death of the family breadwinner, Miss Miller emphasized.

Money to pay social security benefits comes from the social security taxes paid by employees, employers, and self-employed people, on earnings up to $3,600 a year. The tax is now 1½ percent each for employer and employee, and 3 percent for self-employed people, on Jan. 1, 1954.

The Easton social security representative holds office hours in the basement of the Stroudsburg Borough Hall every Thursday, starting at 10:30 a. m.

Smithfield School To Give Musicale

Minisink Hills—Smithfield School holds its 15th annual "Spring Musicale" Friday at 8 p. m.

Included on the program will be selections by "The combined chorus," Mrs. Ruth Shook, directing from rooms three and four. They will sing "Strawberry Fair," "The Cat and the Cheese," "His Only Song," "Canaries and Frogs" and "Good Morning."

Room two chorus, directed by Mrs. Daisy Cron, will sing "Two Rounds," "Old MacDonald Had A Farm" (with Bobby McGarry as leader), and "Doggie In The Window".

Rhythm band from room one, conducted by Mrs. Cornelia May, will play "Punchinella," "The Bell" and "Postillon, Opus 55 No. 1".

Four selections will be sung by the Smithfield Girls Chorus, under direction of Paul Bartholomew. These are "At Pierrot's Door," "Le Moulin," "O Dear, What Can The Matter Be?" and "All Through The Night."

The girls trio will sing "Flowing River," a Chilean folk song, with Janice Wildrick, Carol Anusiewicz and Betsy Park making up the trio, Bartholomew directing and Mrs. Shook accompanying.

Finale of the musicale will be a performance of several numbers by The Smithfield Band, again with Bartholomew directing. These numbers include "The Scarlet and Grey," "Easy Steps," "Carnival King," "Oliver Chorale," "Our School," "Shadowland," "Junior Band," "Bolero Non" and the National Anthem.

Program will be held in the Smithfield school auditorium. Parents, alumni and the general public are invited to attend.

Nitrate is still an important export for Chile, despite world-wide synthetic production.
